Would you like to share your story?

Are you interested in helping others who are new to ICD implantation by sharing your story? Reading about ICD recipients' or supporting family members' experiences can help others who are trying to cope with their own adjustment to living life with an ICD. Maybe you would like to share what you have learned on your journey that would encourage and help others to cope.

We are looking for ICD recipients of any age and/or their family members to submit their personal story for future publications of the "ICD Connection: A Collection of Patient & Family Stories". If so, please contact by e-mail:
