

ISAAC

9 ISAAC

Dear Isaac,

Thank you for honoring the parent/child bond by creating this sand tray with your mother.

Thank you for paying reverence to the place that helps you get away from it all (the river by the hospital).

Thank you for showing us how to keep "climbing the ladder to keep our spirits up."

Surrounding you in hope,
Jenni

Isaac's Sand Tray

The house is there because I miss home the most.

I put the family because family is the reason I'm here.

The Broviac is there because I don't have to get poked. Every time I get unhooked, I walk down to the river by the hospital.

The bottle is to celebrate because I can't wait to be back at home.

The ladder is there because I'm trying to climb it to keep my spirits up.

By: Isaac and his Mom

STORIES FROM THE SANDBOX

Sand Tray by Isaac and his Mom