I shared this request with a number of individuals within University of Michigan and at OER Commons. Letha Goger, the new Digital Librarian at ISKME for the OER Commons project, found some a number of potentially relevant resources. Thanks, Letha! Here is her list:

Professor Brian Perron from University of Michigan School of Social Work shared with me a great reading list that he uses in one of his courses. The list includes many public domain materials on substance abuse from the U.S. department of Health and Human Services. Thanks, Prof. Perron!

All of the 20 files listed have been zipped and are available in a single download

https://open.umich.edu/wiki/images/7/74/Substance\_Abuse\_Public\_Domain\_Resources\_Compiled\_By\_UMSSW.zip (28 MB). You may also browse them online in GoogleDoc using the links below.

Prof. Perron also maintains a list of interdisciplinary \(http://openmi.ch/oa-journals-social-wor\) open access journals related to social work.
