Your material will be published allowing others to use and adapt your work under the conditions you choose to apply. It will be shared on the local institutional servers servers, the African Health Open Educational Resources Network, and potentially other public websites. I understand and give permission that through my institution's open educational resources program the materials will be available to third parties who will be granted perpetual, royalty free, non-exclusive permission to use, reproduce, distribute, publicly perform, publicly display, translate, and modify the materials under the provisions of the Creative Commons license that I have checked below.

Place an X next to your chosen license. Select only 1.

	Creative Commons Attribution (CC BY) License: Lets others copy, distribute, display, and perform your copyrighted work—and derivative works based upon it—but only if they give credit the way you request. http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/3.0/ .
	Creative Commons Attribution – Non-Commercial (CC BY NC) License: This license lets others remix, tweak, and build upon your work non-commercially, and although their new works must also acknowledge you and be non-commercial, they don't have to license their derivative works on the same terms. http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc/3.0/ .
	Creative Commons Attribution – Share Alike (CC BY SA) License: Lets others remix, tweak, and build upon your work even for commercial reasons, as long as they credit you and license their new creations under the identical terms. All new works based on yours will carry the same license, so any derivatives will also allow commercial use. http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-sa/3.0/ .
	Creative Commons Attribution – Non-Commercial – Share Alike (CC BY NC SA) License: Lets others remix, tweak, and build upon your work non-commercially, as long as they credit you and license their new creations under the identical terms. Others can download and redistribute your work, but they can also translate, make remixes, and produce new materials based on your work. All new work based on yours will carry the same license, so any derivatives will also be noncommercial in nature. http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-sa/3.0/ .

I represent that, except where I indicate otherwise, I, to the best of my knowledge, hold the copyright or other proprietary right in the materials, and that I have authority to grant this permission. I understand that, if necessary, my institution's open educational resources program will attempt to obtain any required permission or address any copyright clearance necessary for publication of the material as open educational resources.
